Bridget was an orphan raised by wulvers in a secluded wilderness temple to be its priestess and guardian, but now the outside world has found her and her world will be changed forever. Being suddenly swept up in ancient prophecies and ancestral blood feuds is bad enough, but fighting off the desire ignited in her heart by the proud and arrogant wulver warrior, Griffith, the only man who has ever defeated her in battle, may prove to be her greatest battle yet... When you're the son of the wulver pack leader, and your father isn't about to roll over and show you his belly, life is tough enough. But when you're the Red Wulver, future King of the Blood Reign Prophecy, it's hard to know your own heart, let alone who to trust while trying to be the liberator of your people. Just as you finally take your fate into your own hands you've got your father, the pack leader, hot on your trail and you run headlong into a deadly ancient enemy you never even knew you had. And in the midst of the chaos you crash into the aggravating, infuriating and impossibly beguiling, Bridget, the one obstacle in your path you're not sure you want to overcome...

Angeline has a confession to make. She's broken. When she tells her friends, Heather and Farley, that she's never been with a man who could take her body to the places it's desperate to go—and alone, her singular pleasure is wholly unsatisfying—they decide to get her drunk one night to see if they can solve her problem. But it's no use. She's sure she's broken, unfixable. Damaged goods. When she passes out, drunk, car still running in the garage, she doesn't care if she ever wakes up again. And then she opens her eyes to find that Mason, the arrogant, ass-hat friend of her stepbrother has not only seen her at her lowest, he's humiliated her even further by restraining her after her drunken, half-hearted suicide attempt. The handsome, older guy has always been secretive about his basement lair, and now she knows why. Mason isn't just confident, cocky, a self-proclaimed Master of the Universe—he's Master of much more than that. Mason is a Dom. And he's sure he can prove to her that she's not broken. Just... untapped. Troubled and desperate, Angeline looks at Mason with new eyes, wondering if he really is the only man who can tap her—so to speak. But he's her stepbrother's best friend, and he's practically family. He's the man who's seen her at her worst, her absolute lowest. Can she ever surrender herself to his demands, bend herself to his will, in order to find a deeper bliss than she's ever known in her life? Kelsey never dreamed her first job out of college with her bachelor's degree in hand would be as a secretary. Still, she's grateful to have any job at all, with the economy at a standstill, and she consoles herself that she is, after all, an “executive” secretary to one of the most powerful men in the country. Oliver Pierce turns out to be a harsh taskmaster, and while her friends wonder how Kelsey got the job at all, with such a thin resume, Kelsey doesn't have to wonder. It becomes quite clear very quickly that her lack of experience is exactly what Oliver Pierce was looking for, and she finds herself utterly seduced, happy to be his perfect blank slate, ready to Kirstin has never been out of her den before, but now one of her pack is seriously injured—he may even be dying. Desperate to help, she races straight to Middle March, the borderland between Scotland and England, and falls right into a dangerous trap. As the new laird of his clan, Donal MacFalon has made it clear that he, unlike his brother before him, will honor the wolf pact, an agreement their father made with England's King Henry VII to protect Scotland's wolf shifters, the wulvers, who most believe to be only the stuff of legend. Wulvers, though, are very real. Kirstin knows. She's one of them. When Donal MacFalon turns those steel blue-grey eyes her way, she realizes she's facing something far more dangerous in this man than any trap. This man, already promised to another, has a power over her no man or wulver has ever had before. When he opens his castle and his heart to her, she finds herself willing to risk not only her own heart, but everything she's ever known, just to be with him. Kirstin will find herself caught—between the man she loves and his intended bride, between her pack and a human world frightened of her kind, between nations whose hatred runs deep. Kirstin will be forced to make choices no woman, or wulver, should ever have to make. All for one man, whose love goes beyond borders, nations, or legends, whose heart beats only for her.

Her brother's best friend, Finn, has called her Pita—short for pain in the ass—for so long, Molly's almost forgotten her own name. And, she has to admit, she's mostly lived up to it, because Finn cast himself in the role of a typical, know-it-all, overprotective older friend who thinks he always knows what's best for her. But when she finds his journal and reads the secrets he's been keeping, she suddenly has a decision to make. They have one week alone at a cabin together this summer—can she make Finn realize that, this time, his best

From NEW YORK TIMES Bestselling & Award-Winning Author Selena Kitt - OVER 2 MILLION BOOKS SOLD! Selena Kitt's *Girls Only*—where the girls get naughty together, but it feels oh, so good! Paige isn't looking forward to chaperoning her younger sister's Girl Scout Troop for a camping trip outing—burning S'mores, telling the same old ghost stories and listening to little girls giggle all night long—until she meets the new Girl Scout Troop leader, Brandi. The petite blond is just her type, so when a tent mishap leaves Paige without one, forcing the two women to share, the trip goes from tame to thrilling faster than either of them could have imagined. Warning: This title contains hot panty-melting girl-on-girl action! EXCERPT: What can you do with a dozen fourteen-year-old Girl Scouts, three dozen Hershey's chocolate bars, two boxes of graham crackers and four bags of marshmallows when you're thirty miles from any known civilization? Paige could think of a few things, not the least of which involved going to prison for homicide—those pointy marshmallow sticks would make a great weapon, she mused—but she gritted her teeth and agreed to take them all down to the lake to swim so Brandi could finish setting up camp. “Are you sure you know how to pitch a tent?” Paige asked doubtfully, watching the other “adult volunteer” in their little band of merrymakers pulling tent poles out of a bag. Even though Brandi had taken charge once

Online Library Highland Wolf Pact Selena Kitt Shcltd

the bus had arrived at the camp site, barking orders clearly enough to get the girls moving, setting up their tents and unpacking their gear, Paige still wasn't quite sure Brandi knew what she was doing, exactly. Maybe it was her own brunette's natural prejudice against the petite blond—or maybe it was Brandi's bright idea that using some of the kerosene would help the fire start a little faster. Paige had thankfully made it to the girls before they tried that brilliant idea, or all of them would have gone home to their parents without eyebrows. "I'll be fine!" Brandi blew a stray length of blond hair out of her eyes, sitting back on her heels in her hiking boots. She was wearing her green Girl Scout sash with all her badges, everything from her Brownie wings to her Senior Scout badge and Paige had to resist the urge to make a joke about Girl Scout cookies being made from real Girl Scouts so hard she actually bit her tongue. "Please, just take the girls down to the lake. Let them swim and have fun. I'll finish up here." "If you're sure?" Paige glanced over at the giggling group of girls, already in their suits, towels slung over their shoulders, among them Paige's little sister, Jess—the sole reason she'd agreed to come along on this exasperating outing in the first place. "Go!" Brandi insisted, flashing her a very broad smile as she struggled with the tent bag. "I'll have it all fixed up by the time you get back. That's your tent, isn't it?" "Uh, yeah, but..." Paige looked over at her gear—less than half of what most of the other girls had dragged along. She was a seasoned camper, even if she'd never been a Girl Scout. "I'll set your tent up too, as payback, okay?" Brandi stood, brushing her hands off on her khaki shorts and shooing Paige toward the waiting gaggle of girls. "Then we can get that fire going and roast hot dogs and marshmallows!" "Okayyy, but no kerosene, right?" Paige backed away, still doubtful, but there was no arguing with that blinding, over-confident smile and squeaky reassurance. Besides, what trouble could she get into setting up tents, Paige reasoned, directing her charges down the path toward the beach. Sibyl Blackthorne isn't afraid of anything—except maybe being sold into marriage to a man she doesn't love. A man she's never even met. A man who, by reputation, is one of Scotland's cruelest lairds in over a century. But what choice does she have, with her father dead and her uncle now married to his brother's widow, putting him in charge of not only the Blackthorne fortune, but Sibyl's future as well? Then her betrothed turns out to actually be far worse than his reputation, so headstrong Sibyl decides life as a peasant, or even death, would be preferable to a future with such a despicable man, and makes plans to run away. On an organized hunt for wolves—or, as the Scots call them, wulvers—Sybil escapes her fiancé's clutches, only to find she's run into something far more untamed and dangerous in the middle of the woods. When a big, brawny, long-haired man, who only speaks to her in Gaelic and calls himself Raife, simply picks her up and carries her off with him into the Scottish wild, Sibyl knows she's in trouble. When he takes her to a place no human has ever been, she knows she's gone over the edge. And when he, at last, marks her as his own, she discovers that only one wild heart can claim another.

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING and AWARD WINNING AUTHOR SELENA KITT - OVER 2 MILLION BOOKS SOLD! Selena Kitt's *Power Play*—where those uber-hot alpha authority figures take full advantage of their status to strike up all sorts of sexy naughtiness with their subordinates! Ivy's car has broken down in the middle of the night in the middle of nowhere on the way back from a summer babysitting job, her cell phone neglectfully uncharged, and she's never been so grateful to see flashing lights in her rearview mirror. The familiar, rugged, gorgeous cop who comes to her rescue is sympathetic, inviting Ivy into the front seat of his cruiser where he intends to call for a tow-truck. But before he can get that far, their incessant flirting leads to Ivy's confession that she has a secret fantasy about cops, and officer Paxton declares himself off-duty—so he can play out Ivy's fantasy with her over the hood of the police cruiser. But there's more

Charlie's friend, Vaughn, is a player, in more ways than one. He owns a record store (actual vinyl!), tours with his band, Slacker, on occasion, and has more one-night-stands than Bedrooms R Us. She knows he's going to be quite a catch for some girl one day—his piercing blue eyes could drop a girl's panties at a hundred yards. She's seen it happen—literally—when he's on stage. Not that she could blame any girl for wanting him. Because she wants him, too. But he's her brother's best friend and she knows Vaughn would never cross the divide between them—at least, not without a push. Her job as a medical researcher, where her company is looking for a cure to impotence, gives her just the opening she needs—Charlie offers Vaughn $500 to watch porn, while she observes. It's for science, after all—and maybe, just maybe, she can break down his defenses enough to push him over the edge past the friend zone, where the two of them can finally get a taste of the illicit that they've wanted all along.

Kelly keeps hearing from her college friends what a sexy beast her older brother's best friend, Hayden, is—but he's too busy being a college football star to have much time for girls. Well, except for Kelly. They've always been close, given the amount of time Hayden spends at her house, but now that they're going to the same school, they spend all their time together. Kelly roots for him on the sidelines as a cheerleader, but off the field, she secretly wishes he would pay her some attention. Because while she knows her brother would be angry if he found out, she can't seem to resist, and it's getting harder to hide her feelings for Hayden. When the opportunity comes up for Kelly to push things in a different direction, she literally jumps at the chance. Will she be able to convince her stepbrother's best friend to cross that line?
